

Global Health Corps Donor Privacy Policy

We Respect Our Donors' Privacy

Global Health Corps (GHC) is committed to respecting the privacy of its financial and in-kind donors, whether your donations are made online, by mail, or any other method. When you make a financial or in-kind donation, you provide your name and contact information. Financial donors provide standard payment information including, in many circumstances, credit card data. We protect your information in a variety of ways, as described below.

We use industry standard safeguards to protect your information. We protect the security of credit card transactions using a number of measures such as encryption, access controls, network firewalls, and physical security. These measures make it extremely difficult for anyone to intercept the credit card information you send to us. When we work with other companies to process credit card transactions, those companies also use encryption and other appropriate security measures.

We will not sell, share, or trade our donors' personally identifiable information with any other entity, except as described below. In addition, we will not send mailings to our donors on behalf of other organizations, unless a donor has given us explicit permission to do so. GHC has vendors that assist with processing and managing donations and donor data. We give these vendors access to donor data. Our vendors are bound by strict confidentiality rules and are permitted to use donor data only to support GHC operations.

Our Commitment

For more information about GHC's commitment to privacy, including how to unsubscribe from GHC communications, please see our main Privacy Policy.